

Free opportunity for schools to become a leader in Anti-Bullying practice

- Do you want your school to lead the way in tackling bullying of children and young people?
- Do you want to evidence effective practice in safeguarding children from bullying to Ofsted?

All Together will help you achieve this.

The Anti-Bullying Alliance is delighted to announce that it is working with Nottinghamshire County Council and Nottingham City Council until October 2018 to offer schools in the county the opportunity to become All Together Schools. An All Together School is one that has proven its activity to reduce bullying of all children.

This FREE offer includes:

- A CPD-certified workshop for a member of SLT and another member of staff from your wider workforce where they will be guided through anti-bullying principles, prevention and response strategies and includes a particular focus on disabled children and those with SEN
- access to the 'All Together Pupil Wellbeing Questionnaire' which will tell you about levels of wellbeing and bullying among your pupils and allow you to monitor progress over the course of the programme. The results will report on a variety of indicators including SEN/disability and free school meals
- resources for your school including a responsive anti-bullying audit and All Together Action Plan that supports you to implement and evidence change
- online CPD training for all school staff that includes a module on cyberbullying

What is All Together and how do we take part?

The All Together programme has been developed over the last three years and builds upon the work of the Anti-Bullying Alliance's previous SEND anti-bullying champion programme which saw significant positive results.

Participating schools are supported on- and offline to make whole school change to its anti-bullying practices, using a social model approach.

The programme includes a special focus on reducing bullying of disabled children and those with SEN but aims to reduce bullying of all children and young people.

The programme is funded by the Department for Education and delivered by the Anti-Bullying Alliance, with support from the Council for Disabled Children, Contact a Family and Achievement for All.

To take part in All Together:

- Go to www.anti-bullyingalliance.org.uk/alltogether to register your school, then follow the instructions to embark on the online programme.
- You can also attend a free training workshop to support your school through the programme. This is optional and you can sign up below.

The All Together Training Workshop

The workshop will cover:

- Bullying as a group behaviour
- Bullying and the law
- A social model approach and bullying
- Principles of prevention and response
- Understanding the programme
- Models of response and resolution

We welcome up to two attendees from any school in Nottinghamshire including maintained schools, academies, special schools, PRUs and free schools. It is open to primary and secondary. It is very important that it is understood:

- This is not just a one day training course. There is an expectation from Nottinghamshire County Council and Nottingham City Council that those attending the course will be engaged in the All Together online programme
- Each school can bring up to two staff to the training sessions. One of these places must be a member of your school Senior Leadership Team e.g. Head Teacher, Deputy Heads, SENCos, Anti-Bullying Leads, etc. This is so that we have staff who are able to implement whole school change.
